

My Trip to Japan

By Lau Chi Ho Marco Sebastian

I went to Japan on 1st August, 2017 with my parents and came back to Hong Kong on 12th August, 2017. My trip was wonderful because the flight was smooth and safe.

When my feet touched the ground in Japan, I was super excited. I ran around and jumped up and down at that time. We went to our hotel. It was night time when we checked in.

Day 2

I went to Legoland Japan with my mum. The tickets were very expensive! When I got in, I rode on some different rides, including roller coasters and other rides which I didn't know their names. The one which I thought the best was called 'The Factory'. It shows you how Lego blocks are made and gives you a new Lego block. All the other rides were exciting but the one I liked best was the fake submarine ride. There were real fish inside the submarine. The stingrays and the small sharks were the coolest. Even though the sharks were a bit shorter than expected, there were some life-size Lego models too.

Day 5

I went to my favourite place: The Pokemon Centre. It was located in Osaka therefore we had to travel from Nagoya to Osaka. I listened to music that I like on the way to the new hotel. It was a short trip. We checked in immediately and went to the Pokemon Centre. It wasn't very big but there were several Arcade machines for us to play. It was super fun. The Pokemon were very detailed and they looked so real! If you caught a Pokemon, you received a Pokemon chip.

Day 11

We went back to Nagoya and I was very sad. But there was still something that made me happy. I still hadn't received my birthday gift so I will bought a Lucario plush that was as tall as my upper body.

We came back to Hong Kong the day after that. I almost cried in the airport. I think this journey to Japan was extraordinary. I did new things and it was not too boring. I would rather live in Japan than live in Hong Kong.
