

The New Ending of The Town Mouse and The Country Mouse
By Fung Tsz Ying, Kayley

One day, Tom, the town mouse saw an old mouse and he opened the door for him. He felt happy. Tom was nice to other mice too.

The next day, Tom invited his friends, May and Ben to his home. Tom cooked dinner for them. After dinner, they played many games. They were tired but happy.

The day after, Tom went to his neighbour's home and helped him to clean the window. His neighbour was very touched.

After that, Tom invited Jame, the country mouse to his home. They watched TV together. At night, Jame followed Tom to his garden and they lay down on the grass. They saw many stars on the sky. Jame said, 'Look! The stars are pretty!' Two kind mice were happy.

The moral of this story is being nice and helpful to others make people happy.

