

A Detective Story

By Chun E-Ching, Hailey

One day, there was a theft. A thief stole a mobile phone. It took place near Rose Restaurant in Tsing Kwan O. She called the police for help at once.

The minutes later, a detective arrived. He asked the shopkeeper of Rose Restaurant, 'What does the thief look like?' The shopkeeper answered, 'He is a young man in jeans and with sunglasses. He is the man who is holding a green bag.' He also asked a customer, 'What does the thief look like?' The customer replied, 'He is the man in a T-shirt.'

The detective found three men after he listened to the clues. However, the woman could not identify the thief. She drew a blank because she was too scared. Next, the detective gave it a shot. He called the woman on the phone. One of the men's phones rang immediately.

In the end, the detective arrested the thief. He returned the phone to the woman. The woman was thankful for the help of the detective.
